

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 6, 2009 (St. Louis) – HEC-TV premieres a new Frames episode to launch our Black History Month programming. Frames: The Color of Change airs Tuesdays in February at 8 pm only on HEC-TV.

Jackie Robinson changed the course of history by becoming the first African American player signed to a major league contract. This shattering of the color barrier marked a major step forward for black ballplayers, but it also marked the beginning of the end of the Negro Leagues. Hear their story in this new documentary from Glenn Fishering. Frames host Kent Martin interviews Fishering before the film is shown in its entirety.

HEC-TV can be seen on Charter Cable Channel 26 in St. Louis city and county, on AT&T U-verse Channel 99, and streamed live on the web at www.hectv.org.
